

TALL TALES HALLOWEEN SPECIAL

Thursday 30 October
3.45pm to 4.45pm, Central Library

What was that creak on the stairs? Did you feel that icy chill? The library's the place for a fearful thrill! This Halloween, we invite you to our regular Tall Tales storytime session for some terrifying tales and frightful fun. So join us if you dare, all you bogarts and ghouls, and don't forget to wear your creepiest costumes!

Tuesday 28th October – Saturday 1st November 10am-4pm

Join us at TRP for half term family fun!

Have you ever wondered what a dinosaur might do in a day? Or what they actually looked like? What colour were they? Were they really green like they are in the movies? Dr Jakob Vinther, the famous palaeontologist, changed the world with his mind-blowing scientific discovery when he figured out what colour dinosaurs actually were.

The Colour of Dinosaurs brings the story of Jakob's extraordinary science to life and celebrate everyone's identities, including disability, cultural identity, and of course, how much we all love dinosaurs!
